Two potential views for a node being 'selected'.

Pre-requisite (green) and post-requisite (red) views. These could be made larger or replaced with an image etc.

Greyed out view for when nodes do not belong to a course sub-category
